From: Morning Fix | SFChronicle.com
To: Malabed, Ronald (SHF)
Subject: ICE to target migrant families in nationwide raid that may include San Francisco | e-edition
Date: Saturday, June 22, 2019 4:33:28 AM

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Trouble reading this message? View it in a browser.

San Francisco Chronicle

Morning Fix

Saturday, June 22, 2019

View Today's e-edition

Good morning, subscribers. In case you missed it: Bruce Bochy's first season as manager of the San Francisco Giants wasn't always smooth. At times, he questioned how long he would last. His ability to keep cool has been critical to surviving 13 seasons with the team. This is part 2 in our series, 'Bochy's Walk-off.' Don't miss this Chronicle story. Read more here.

Top Stories

ICE to target migrant families in nationwide raid that may include San Francisco

By Tal Kopan and Tatiana Sanchez

U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement plans to detain migrant families in major cities across the country as early as Sunday, immigration officials said.

Newsom pitches wildfire claims relief plan for PG&E — with conditions

By J.D. Morris

The governor has proposed creating a fund to help utilities with their wildfire liabilities. But to use it, PG&E would have to pass a new safety certification.

Oakland opens Bay Area's first 24/7 safe parking area for homeless RV dwellers

By Sarah Ravani

Oakland opened the first RV safe parking location in the Bay Area last week as part of its effort to experiment with new strategies to address homelessness.

California fishermen report the biggest salmon season in a decade

By Tara Duggan

On the heels of three disastrous seasons, commercial fishermen are reporting the biggest king salmon season in a decade. The price in turn has dropped from $30 to per pound to around $20 per pound in many markets.

Read more at SFChronicle.com

Bay Area News

43 minutes of chaos, desperation before rescuers reached fallen Sacramento police officer

By Megan Cassidy, Matthias Gafni and Alexei Koseff

Police radio traffic retrieved from archived audio recordings reveals the moments on Wednesday evening after Tara O'Sullivan was shot.

Body-cam footage released. Sacramento police say suspect would have killed more officers

By Suzanne Espinosa Solis

The man accused of killing a Sacramento police officer strategically placed four weapons around his barricaded home shooting at them from different rooms.

San Leandro structure fire prompts evacuations

By Lauren Hernández

Alameda County firefighters were fighting a blaze at 20 Georgia Way near the corner of Georgia Way and East 14th Street just before 10 p.m.

Man charged with murder in fatal stabbings in rural San Mateo County

By Gwendolyn Wu

Pacifica resident Malik Dosouqi, 26, is accused of killing two Bay Area men in a rural part of San Mateo County. He was charged with two counts of murder, officials said.

Stockton fire chief arrested; had taken job with SF emergency department

By Gwendolyn Wu

Stockton Fire Chief Erik Newman, who had been tapped for a job with the San Francisco Department of Emergency Management, was arrested Thursday, officials said.

Gascón strongly considering running for LA district attorney job

By Evan Sernoffsky

SF District Attorney George Gascón said he is strongly considering running for district attorney in Los Angeles, after announcing that he would not seek re-election.

Animal-rights activists win free speech ruling over Vallejo's Six Flags protests

By Bob Egelko

Animal-rights activists can hold protests in the parking lot and walkways outside Six Flags Discovery Kingdom in Vallejo, a state appeals court ruled.

New 341 area code introduced in East Bay

By Sarah Ravani

The California Public Utilities Commission added a second area code Friday to the East Bay to meet the demand for telephone numbers in the region.

Read more Local stories

Click here to sign up for the Bay Briefing newsletter.

Politics

Gavin Newsom to California's critics: State is 'still the envy of the world'

By John Wildermuth

California is getting a bad rap from businesses and the national media, Gov. Gavin Newsom said Friday, and he's tired of it. "We outperform everyone."

Joe Biden goes south

Joe Biden goes south

By Willie Brown

Maybe Biden was looking for a fight in his comments about having been able to work with segregationists. More likely, he just wasn't thinking it through.

Support impeachment, lose a seat: Why some California Democrats go easy on Trump

By John Wildermuth

For Dems who face tight races in GOP-friendly districts, a fight over impeachment could cost them — and their party — a seat in Congress.

Read more Politics stories

Click here to sign up for the Political Punch newsletter.

Sporting Green

Giants furious after replay decision stalls 9th-inning rally in 9-8 loss

By John Shea

The Giants were ticked off about baseball's review team calling Stephen Vogt out at third base in the ninth inning. And the Giants fell to the Dodgers 9-8.

A's can't deliver a happy ending to a rough day, lose to Rays

By Henry Schulman

The Oakland Athletics had a bad Friday, with All-Star-caliber pitcher Frankie Montas drawing an 80-game drug suspension. They also lost to the Rays.

Did the Warriors score in the draft's first round with Jordan Poole? Some think not

By Bruce Jenkins

There were decidedly mixed reviews among NBA draft analysts for Jordan Poole, the Michigan guard selected by the Warriors in the first round.

A's Frankie Montas suspended 80 games after positive test for banned substance

By Henry Schulman

Oakland A's starter Frankie Montas has been suspended 80 games without pay after testing positive for a performance-enhancing substance.

NASCAR driver Denny Hamlin doubts Sonoma winner will be a surprise

By Tom FitzGerald

In the last 12 years, only Kyle Busch and Martin Truex Jr. have won the Toyota/Save Mart 350 twice. Trying to pick a winner is something of a fool's game.

A's manager Bob Melvin returns a day after surgery

By Henry Schulman

Oakland A's manager Bob Melvin rejoined the team a day after undergoing a procedure to ease pain in the facet joint in the neck.

Giants' new outfielder Alex Dickerson 'happy to have a jersey'

By John Shea

The Giants called up the 29-year-old outfielder Friday to replace center fielder Steven Duggar, who was placed on the injured list with lower back tightness.

Alex Dickerson’s historic debut leads Giants past Diamondbacks

By John Shea

Alex Dickerson hit a grand slam, two-run triple and single to lead the San Francisco Giants to a victory over the Diamondbacks. It was Dickerson’s first game as a Giant.

Why Giants’ Yastrzemski doesn’t wear grandfather’s legendary No. 8

By John Shea

San Francisco Giants outfilder Mike Yastrzemski had the chance to wear his grandfather’s old number, 8, but chose 5, which served him well in Triple-A.

Read more Sporting Green stories

Click here to sign up for the Sporting Green newsletter.

Biz+Tech

PG&E shareholders approve new board amid protests outside

By Elena Shao

PG&E shareholders approved the addition of CEO Bill Johnson to the board and ratified the term of 13 other members.

Silicon Valley foundation's crypto assets plunged, but donations rose in 2018

By Kathleen Pender

The foundation had a tumultuous year in 2018. The value of its cryptocurrencies plunged, its CEO and top fundraiser were forced out amid a scandal. But donations still rose.

Read more Biz+Tech stories

Click here to sign up for the Tech Chronicle newsletter.

Opinion Central

Trump is lucky the 'Mayor Libby Schaaf Act' went nowhere

By John Diaz

President Trump suggested that Oakland's mayor should be prosecuted for warning of a immigration raids by ICE. It led a GOP measure that would make warnings illegal.

Editorial: A timely victory for Barbara Lee's fight against endless war

Chronicle Editorial Board

The House passed the Oakland congresswoman's measure as the Trump administration verges on military action against Iran.

Read more Opinion Central stories

Click here to sign up for the Opinion Central newsletter.

Food & Culture

Why does Bay Area chef Joshua Skenes want to disappear into the woods?

Patrick Heij

Some call him the best chef in America. But Josh Skenes of Saison and Angler in San Francisco seems bent on fleeing the kitchen for the woods.

Our favorite cookbooks of 2019, so far

By Chronicle staff and contributors

Spring and summer always mark a high point for cookbook releases. We asked The Chronicle's Food staff and contributors for their favorites so far this year. Enjoy.

Who needs neighbors when there's an app for everything?

By Simone Stolzoff

As 'community' becomes a euphemism for customer base, it seems real community is fraying in our on-demand world.

Read more Food & Culture stories

Click here to sign up for the Chronicle Food newsletter.

Datebook

Dilexi Gallery and SF art history live on at Brian Gross, Crown Point Press

By Charles Desmarais

No credible history of American art could ignore Abstract Expressionism. A credible case can be made for the seminal role of San Francisco artists, particularly Clyfford Still.

Andre Iguodala shares his history of hooping in 'Sixth Man' memoir

By Laura Compton

Just a few weeks after the Warriors fell to the Toronto Raptors, Andre Iguodala will appear at the Jewish Community Center of S.F. to talk about his memoir.

Read more Datebook stories

Click here to sign up for the Datebook newsletter.

Chronicle Vault

Chronicle Covers: The Summer of Love's official beginning

By Tim O'Rourke

The Chronicle's front page from June 22, 1967, covers what was heralded as the official beginning of the hippies' Summer of Love.

Read more Chronicle Vault stories

Click here to sign up for the Chronicle Vault newsletter.

Podcasts

Warriors Off Court, Ep. 75: Breaking down a chaotic draft night

By Connor Letourneau

Sportswriter Rusty Simmons and Santa Cruz Warriors play-by-play voice Kevin Danna sat down with writer Connor Letourneau to break down a chaotic draft night.

Listen to more podcasts

This email is a snapshot of the best journalism produced by the San Francisco Chronicle newsroom and posted on SFChronicle.com. If you prefer, click here to view today's e-edition

Today's Chronicle

This email was sent to ronald.malabed@sfgov.org because you are opted in to the Morning Fix newsletter.

Privacy Notice Terms of Use

Manage Email Preferences

Unsubscribe from the Morning Fix newsletter

San Francisco Chronicle | 901 Mission St, San Francisco, CA 94103
© 2019 Hearst Communications, Inc.